9:45-10:15	Coffee break + Poster session
10:15-11:15	PhD's oral presentations
	Neurosciences Aula Magna	Cancer and metabolism Aula A03	Regenerative medicine Aula A01
	“What can we learn from working memory biases in mice?” Balma Serrano-Porcar	“A novel macrophage reprogramming cancer immunotherapy” Tony Paul	“Mediator complex and transcriptional control of cellular identity” Isabel Calvo
	“Endocannabinoid system genetic variability role on dermatoglyphic patterns and schizophrenia-spectrum disorders” Maria Guardiola-Ripoll	“Regulation of adipose and bone tissues by the E3 ubiquitin-ligase Herc1” Arturo Martínez-Martínez	“Using 3D information of the binding site to enhance LBVS speed by filtering out undesired conformers” Lluís Campos-Vicens
	“Purification and characterization of hPSC-derived striatal progenitor subpopulations for cell therapy in Huntington's Disease” Francisco José Molina-Ruiz	“Biomechanics of the progression of hypermethylated colorectal carcinomas” Giulia Fornabaio	“Natural killer cells are an extrinsic barrier for in vivo reprogramming” Elena Melendez
	“TRESK background potassium channel modulates thermal sensitivity in mice” Anna Pujol-Coma	“Role of lysosomal-associated gene LAPMT4B in leukemia” Jennifer Delgado-Martínez	“Macrophages crosstalk with intestinal stem cells to regulate homeostasis and regeneration” Ilias Moraitis
11:15-12:15	Scientific Speed Dating
12:30-13:15	Keynote lecture by Salvador Aznar-Benitah “Epigenetic influence of our (fatty) diet on metastatic-initiating cells: role of tumor innervation” Aula Magna
13:15-14:30	Lunch
14:30-15:15	Round table: “Science and society” Aula Magna
15:15-16:15	Workshop session 1
	“Bad news – Understanding top-down and bottom-up scientific dissemination” by Verificat Aula A03	“Speak out your science to the public” by Eduscopi Aula Magna
16:15-16:45	Coffee break + Poster session
16:45-17:45	Workshop session 2
	“Biodesign: innovation and entrepreneurship in life sciences” by Biocat Aula A03	“Visualize your scientific data” by Eduscopi Aula Magna
17:45-18:00	Prizes Aula Magna
18:00-20:00	Networking and drinks
